THE BARTHOLIN MYSTERY.

The Chicago Police Think They Are Nearing a Solution of the Puzzling Case.

THEY WILL SWEAT ED COUNSELMAN.

He Evidently Has Some Guilty Knowledge, But Thus Far Has Refused to Divulge What He Knows, Notwithstanding the Pleadings of His Wife to Do So.

the Bartholin-Mitchell murder mystery have led the police to believe they are nearer the solution of the problem that has been puzzling them for over a week than ever before. Edward Counselman, the intimate friend of William J. Bartholin, who was held for possible knowledge of the crimes, was taken before Justice Quinn, Monday, and held for ten days in bonds of $10,000, charged with being accessory after the fact in the murders of Minnie Mitchell and Mrs. Anne Bartholin. Counselman admitted he had met Bartholin, and that Bartholin said he was in trouble over Minnie Mitchell. The most damaging testimony as to Counselman's possible guilty knowledge of the murders of the two women came from a new witness whom the police found Monday. Wm. Allen, a fellowworkman of Counselman's. Allen said that Counselman had told him repeatedly that he knew a great deal about the trouble Bartholin was in. When Allen suggested that Counselman tell the police what he knew, the latter said he would do no such thing; that Bartholin was his friend, and that he was too shrewd for the police. Allen said that Counselman even expressed the opinion that Bartholin had esily had time to reach the seaboard. Allen said that Counselman expressed the greatest anxiety over the sace, as it developed in the newspaers, and that frequently Counselman would walk from the suburb of Tarvey, where the two men worked, as far as Kensington, to secure the papers. For three days Counselman did not do any work because of nervousness. The police have the testimony of another witness, who is positive he saw Counselman and Bartholin together on August 7-the day the body of Minnie Mitchell was found.

It is the purpose of the police to put Counselman through the sweating ordeal, and they expect valuable results. Counselman's wife begged his repeatedly to tell the police all he knew, but so far Counselman has been obdurate. A note from Bartholin to Counselman asking for money, and saying that the writer was in trouble, is held by the police. It was this note which Counselman had tried to secure from his wife by choking her that led to his arrest. The postponed inquest of the body of Minnie Mitchell has been resumed. It is probable that a verdict will be returned with recommendations that the men in custody he held to the grand jury.

CARTURED BY GUNSAULUS.

The Well-Known Chicago Pulpit Orator Creates a Protound Impression in London.

New York, Aug. 19.-Rev. Dr. Gunsaulus, of Chicago, has created a profound impression by his preaching in Dr. Parker's pulpit in the City Temple, says the Tribune's London correspondent, and adds:

lectuality, great fluency and poetic view held the congregation spellbound at the morning service. In the course of a sermon, in which was shown how vain was the man's effort to span the mighty distance between earth and Heaven and discover the secret of the Almighty flame, the preacher for a moment descended from his poetic plane and, with dramatic outspokenness unfamiliar to frequenters of the City Temple, actually excited the listeners into a dem onstration of applause. It is quite unusual, even at the City Temple, for Sunday worshippers loudly to express the feelings, although at Dr. Parker's Thursday services the addresses are occasionally interrupted by murmurs of approval. Dr. Gunsaulus can, therefore, regard the cheering as a very exceptional compliment to his powers of oratory.

The Murderer Escaped.

President Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation to Retire.

HE WILL SEEK ABSOLUTE QUIETUDE.

He is Not III So as to Be Confined to that He is Obliged to Deny Himself to All Company, Even His Business Associates.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 19.—A Loretto (Pa.) special to the Pittsburg Dis-

President Chas. M. Schwab, of the United States Steel corporation, has accepted the advice of his physicians from an active business life. He will leave America to seek some quiet nook in a foreign clime where not an echo of the strenuous life he has led can reach him. This information is authentic. Dr. Golden never leaves the Schwab home, and the exact nature of his patient's illness can not be learned through him.

Mr. Schwab is not confined to his bed, but spends much of his time on the wide veranda which affords fresh air and a sweeping view of the mountain slope. He is always with his wife or his parents.

The strange part of Mr. Schwab's illness is that he is always within view of those who call at his house, yet he will not allow any person to approach him. Heretofore the visitors to the Schwab home were greeted with a hearty welcome and a vigorous handshake. Now the visitor is met at the entrance and told that Mr. Schwab can not be seen. Intimates of the family receive the same message and none has been able to converse with President Schwab since he came back to his home."

The correspondent then says: "The people of this town, who still call him "Charlie" because of their early and intimate acquaintance with him, are discussing his prospective departure. They know he is a sick man and are relieved that he will spend possibly a year in an effort to refrain his health.

"The presence of Sisters, belonging to the Order of Mercy, in his home day and night since Thursday was another indication of illness. The nuns were not visitors, but it is generally known that they are nursing the man from so many business cares. "It was after learning that his health was very bad and that he intended to devote a year's time to recuperating, that I passed into the grounds leading to the palatial home on the mountain top.

"Mrs. Schwab said that her husband would not see any person and had not been receiving visitors for several days. "Mr. Schwab sat on a couch within hearing of our voices. A paper was before his eyes. He exhibited no interest and made no attempt to move. "Business associates, it is said, have met with a similar reception during the past two days. erated Tomlirson case, in which Mrs. Tomlinson sued the Iron Mountain railroad for $50,000 for the death of her husband in 1894, failed to reach a verdict and was dismissed. Lieut. Tominson was killed by a freight engine in the yards of the Iron Mountain road in July, 1894, just after the close of the competitive drill held by the state guard in Little Rock. Suit was first brought in the United States ourt by the widow of the deceased, Mrs. Regina Tomlinson. The case was thrown out on a nonsuit entered by the plaintiff. The next trial occurred in Benton, when a verdict of $50,000 was obtained. The presiding judge reduced the amount by $30,000. on which it was appealed to the supreme court of the state. This tribunal reversed the decision of the lower court and remanded the case for a new trial. A change of venue was taken to Hot Spring county, with the above re-
